RUBIKS TECHNOLOGY

A national test called 500 law firms. 6 in 10 didn't pick up.

Here's why, and three fixes.

THE TEST

500 law firms were called the way a new client would call.

40%

Only 40% of those calls were answered by a person.

TECHNOLOGY

⚠ THEN IT GOT WORSE

Counting callbacks, only about half could be reached at all.

The other half never spoke to the caller.

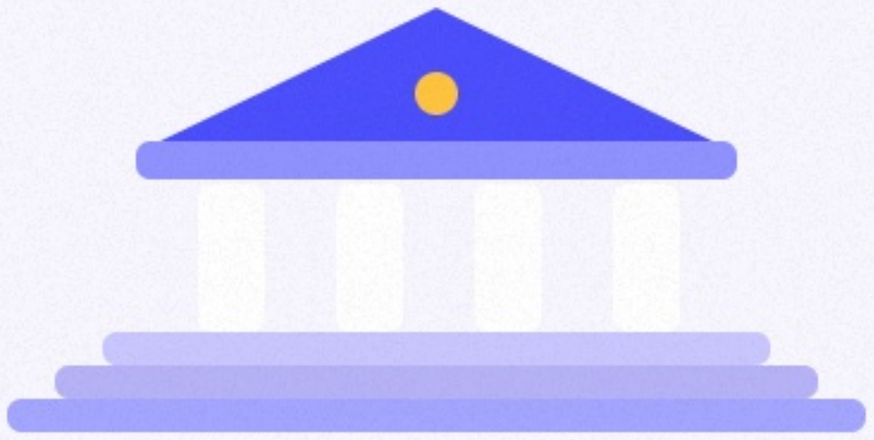

? WHY IT HAPPENS

Nobody is being lazy.

The phone rings when your team can’t get to it.

FIX 1

A backup that picks up when the front desk can’t.

A second person, a service, or a rollover line.

FIX 2

A text back within one minute of any missed call.

They know you saw it before they call someone else.

FIX 3

One named person owns callbacks by 9 AM.

If everyone owns it, no one does.
